-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 3 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 20020071067 A1 (067).

Per claim 1, 067 teaches a lighting unit comprising: a light guiding plate for guiding light entering from an end face thereof along a principal surface thereof [15]; a light source disposed along the end face of the light guiding plate [17]; and a housing disposed to enclose at least the reflector and configured to hold the light guiding plate [16]; wherein at least one contact surface of a predetermined region at which the housing and the light guiding plate contact each other is roughened [see surface 162]. 067 lacks the reflector configured to enclose the light source to reflect the light emitted from the light source toward the end face of the light guiding plate. However, it was well known to incorporate reflectors to improve the efficiency of the light outputted to the light guide. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time of invention.

Per claim 3, 067 teaches the lighting unit according to claim 1, wherein a sliding member is disposed on the predetermined region at which the housing and the light guiding plate are opposed to each other [the first case 12 slides over the second case 16—thus first case 12 is a slider member].

Per claim 5, 067 teaches a liquid crystal display device comprising: a lighting unit according to claim 1; and a liquid crystal display panel configured to display an image by variation of transmissivity of light according to an input image signal; wherein the liquid crystal display panel is disposed on a front surface of the lighting unit [see panel 11].

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
